• We increased our audience by 32% with 141,870 people visiting our exhibitions (compared to 107,342 in 2007/08, 65,320 in 2006/07 and also 38,879 in 2005/06).

• We expanded our touring program to 9 exhibitions and 32 presentations at 30 host galleries across Victoria, New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia, Tasmania and Western Australia.

• We developed ambitious and stimulating exhibitions that presented new and existing works by some of Australia’s leading contemporary artists and crafts practitioners, including Daniel Crooks, Shaun Gladwell, James Morrison, Daniel von Sturmer, Louise Weaver, Ilka White, John Wolseley and Anne Zahalka.

• We supported the practice of a diverse range of leading and emerging Australian artists and fostered the creation of new works for our exhibitions.

• We established new partnerships with Asialink and Heide Museum of Modern Art.

• We travelled 36,010 kilometres to present our exhibitions in regional Victoria and beyond (compared to 30,985 in 2007/08 and 11,880 kilometres in 2006/07).

• We packed and crated 398 works of art and objects, including new media based works.

• We contributed to the vitality of Victoria’s culture by providing regional communities with the opportunity to access and engage with the best contemporary art, craft and design.

• We designed and distributed our 2009 Destinations postcard book which comprised of a full list of the exhibitions on tour for the year and promoted NETS Victoria to a wide audience.

• We negotiated an exciting new five year partnership with International Art Services in which they are our preferred freight carrier and tour partner which benefits our organisation and through it the public gallery sector in Victoria and interstate. This agreement began in January 2009.

• We have continued to build our profile with strategic advertisements in a range of art publications and have fostered our ongoing relationship with Art Monthly with the Artnotes Victoria column which we author.

• We were successful in our application to Telematics Trust for funding for a new website to be launched late 2009.

• We have developed a survey for the regional gallery directors which will seek feedback on our programs and services and gathers data which will be useful in our strategic planning in coming years.

• We launched a new e-newsletter, NETSletter, sent to all our stakeholders and enhanced our social networking through joining Facebook and Twitter.
Australian art has long been good friends with the postcard. From precious reproductions sent from the continent, to café stacked promotions and the greatest hits of museum shop racks, the postcard has helped distribute art of all sorts far and wide.

Which is exactly what we’ve been busy doing too. In 2008-2009 we presented nine exhibitions, which were seen at 32 venues – two thirds of which were in Victoria.

This year saw our biggest audience ever: over 140,000 visitors, a 76% increase on the previous year. Moreover, this is the fourth year in a row that NETS Victoria has reported audience growth of this magnitude.

But nothing is achieved alone, and a postbox (at least a virtual one) full of thank you notes has been due. Our program would not be possible without the commitment of Arts Victoria and the Australia Council, and the project support from the Visions of Australia initiative. We also thank the National Gallery of Victoria for their long-term support. And of course, we thank the artists and galleries on whose collaboration we rely.

This year, NETS Victoria confirmed a commercial partnership with International Art Services, and worked towards a full website redevelopment thanks to a grant from the Telematics Trust. These deliver on key elements of our 2008-2010 Strategic Plan, as has new work on our risk management and communication strategies, and the development of a comprehensive program of visitor evaluation.

2008-2009 has seen some comings-and-goings on the board of management. We thank outgoing board members Carmen Grostel, Meredith Squires and Rodney James for their contribution. We have been pleased to welcome Bryony Nainby, Joe Pascoe and (thanks to the assistance of the Australian Business Arts Foundation’s Boardbank program) Alex Ferrar to the board.

On behalf of the board, I would like to thank Georgia Cribb for her visionary leadership of the organisation, and the whole NETS Victoria team for their dedication. As much as our exhibitions rely on creative practice, so too do our operations. The substantial impact of NETS Victoria in the cultural life of Victoria is testament to the creativity of all those who have contributed to our program this year.

If we could only fit you all in the office... we wish you were here!

Alex Taylor, Chair
Greetings from the heart of Melbourne, Federation Square.....

...and from the 31 different destinations we journeyed to over the past twelve months, covering 36,010 kilometres, to deliver the NETS Victoria touring exhibition program to audiences of more than 140,000 across regional Victoria and beyond.

The program for this financial year was stylistically and conceptually diverse but consistently high in quality. Exhibitions included works by some of our most promising young artists such as Roderick Sprigg, who was selected for this year’s Primavera, the Museum of Contemporary Art's showcase of emerging talent, through to Australia’s representative artist at the 2009 Venice Biennale, Shaun Gladwell. We are grateful to the 59 artists who shared our enthusiasm for bringing their work to a wide audience across the state and beyond.

NETS Victoria toured nine exhibitions in this period. Whilst two thirds of the presentations were at our state’s best public galleries, we also promoted the work of Victorian artists and organisations through the staging of exhibitions at thirteen major public galleries across six states including Object Gallery, Sydney; Flinders University Art Museum, Adelaide; Ipswich Art Gallery, QLD; and Fremantle Arts Centre, WA.

The tours of the exhibitions Murray Cod: the biggest fish in the river and Victorians on vacation concluded. Loop: new Australian video art; The enchanted forest; new gothic storytellers, Hall of Mirrors: Anne Zahalka portraits 1987-2007, How you make it and Walk continued on their respective journeys to great acclaim. We launched two new projects – Come on the scene and The world in painting. We have another seven exciting projects in development for tour in late 2009 and 2010.

NETS Victoria had a number of changes within our team in this period, but the talented Emily Jones, who has been with the organisation since 2005, and I remained a constant. Program Manager Jane Barlow left the organisation after two years, moving back to her home state of Tasmania. Jane oversaw the development of some of our most successful projects, notably Walk and Hall of Mirrors: Anne Zahalka portraits 1987-2007. We are fortunate that Sherryn Vardy, Assistant Curator, Latrobe Regional Gallery accepted the position, bringing a sophisticated skill set and experience in the regional gallery sector.

During the year we were pleased to host an arts management intern from Melbourne University, Rochelle Rogers who helped on a range of projects.

One of our previous interns Elizabeth Craft assisted us during a very busy phase and was responsible for summarising the first phase of our Visitor Evaluation survey data, which are profiled within this report.

Melissa Hart, our inaugural Communications Manager also left the organisation during this period. Over two years, Melissa built a strong profile for the organisation in all regards and produced publications that provided a rich interpretation of the exhibitions for a range of audiences for which we are grateful.
DIRECTOR’S REPORT

Melissa oversaw some of the key marketing and audience development projects instigated in the last six months including our new e-newsletter, our 2009 Destinations guide which previewed our touring program for the year, and worked hard to shape and develop content for our new website currently under construction. She also developed and managed the incredibly successful 2008 NETS Victoria symposium for curators, The C Word: collaboration which was attended by 86 arts workers and artists from around the country.

In addition to our touring program, our organisation delivers a suite of support services for the industry. We continue to be an active member of the NETS Australia network which is dedicated to touring exhibitions of contemporary art, craft and design across regional Australia. We meet regularly to share resources and expertise in order to remain at the forefront of touring practices and to advocate on behalf of the touring sector.

Look out for some of our most interesting projects to date arriving in your home town next year. Whilst postcards are now circulated in the digital realm, much like art, it is more meaningful when the real thing arrives at your doorstep.

Hello Nets!

Writing from the first leg of the tour. This idea of designing the show in modular parts and tailoring it to each exhibition space is working really well here. The show arrived absolutely beautifully packed and MATERIAL BY PRODUCT's beaded dress was so lovingly wrapped around its quilted roll we were all very impressed!

Everyone who worked on the show was also thankful for the excellent labeling of all the parts and the display has come together stress-free!

Thanks again for getting us all on the road and for the chance to show all this brilliant work outside Melbourne!

Kate

For each project, NETS Victoria is responsible for fundraising, collection management and registration activities, tour management, and the development of signage, publications and promotional material to facilitate a meaningful interpretation of the touring exhibition. Grants up to $10,000 are available to Victorian exhibiting organisations and all recipients are encouraged to work with NETS Victoria to develop the exhibition tour.

OBJECTS TO LIVE BY.
THE ART OF JOHN MEADE
Curated by Zara Stanhope for Latrobe Regional Gallery

Objects to live by. The art of John Meade will be the first exhibition to review almost twenty years of practice from one of Australia’s leading sculptors.

Meade’s oeuvre is distinguished by its synthesis of figuration and abstraction. In dissolving the distinctions between sculpture, modern design and everyday objects, his art is a catalyst for the imagination. The forms, materials and surfaces of works open up a playful dialogue around the theatricality of display and invite the viewer to speculate on the origins and interrelations of individual sculptures. Our perceptions of the material world are seen a fresh and reshaped in Objects to live by.

The exhibition will be launched at Latrobe Regional Gallery from 6 February - 4 April 2010 and will then tour Victoria and interstate in 2010.

TURBULENT TERRAIN:
THE SUBLIME IN CONTEMPORARY ART
Curated by Bryony Nainby, Latrobe Regional Gallery

This exhibition presents a diverse range of works by Australian and International artists who engage with contemporary concepts of the sublime. Traditionally associated with 19th century artists such as Caspar David Friedrich, the aesthetic concept of the sublime originally referred to the sense of awe and fear inspired by the vastness and immense power of nature and the elements.

Contemporary artists Stephen Hurrel, Charles Green and Lyndell Brown, Lara Merrett, Olga Cironis and Tony Lloyd continue to attempt to evoke a form of human experience that is beyond the everyday, expressing wonder, awe and exhilaration through works which engage science, technology, military activity, environmental concerns and genetic engineering.

The exhibition will be launched at Latrobe Regional Gallery from 19 August - 25 October 2009 and is proposed to tour Victoria into 2010.

LIN ONUS: MEANING OF LIFE
Curated by Damian Smith, Maroondah Art Gallery

Recognised as a seminal participant in the urban Indigenous art scene, Lin Onus (1948-1996) pioneered a unique approach to communicating cultural knowledge through combining Indigenous and Western visual systems. His witty and insightful works extend an invitation across the cultural divide, providing an ideal opportunity for audiences to learn about Indigenous culture and the ongoing issue of cross-cultural interaction.

Onus worked in a wide variety of media including painting, sculpture and printmaking. For the first time, this exhibition will present a comprehensive overview of Lin Onus’ late silkscreen prints, created over a seven year period before his death.

This exhibition will be presented at Maroondah Art Gallery from May to June 2009 and will then tour to metropolitan and regional Victorian galleries.
In mid 2008, we partnered with Ticketmaster to develop a Visitor Evaluation program, designing a DL card and developing a spreadsheet within which information could be recorded and analysed. A feedback box to hold the cards was designed and manufactured by Erik North. Feedback is both quantitative and qualitative.

The exhibition Walk provided the first phase of substantial data for the 11 venue tour.

HOW VISITORS FOUND OUT ABOUT THE EXHIBITION

37% of visitors cited word of mouth as the main way they found out about the exhibition, a reflection that people come to an exhibition if they hear that it is a quality exhibition and worth their time. With 32% of visitors attending the exhibition because of advertising it is a reflection of the importance of maintaining good local media coverage.

DURATION OF VISIT

The exhibition received a good viewing time with 34% staying longer than half an hour. These findings were very pleasing considering the scale of the exhibition.

EXHIBITION INTERPRETATION

There were a range of interpretive materials offered to the audience in this exhibition including interpretive signage and a room brochure detailing the origins of the project and information on the Great South West Walk. Almost 90 percent of visitors across all venues reported that they found the interpretive material either ‘very good’ or ‘excellent’. This was really fantastic result and shows the depth of material available was both sufficient and pitched at the right level for the audience.

ATTITUDE TOWARDS CONTEMPORARY ART

The vast majority of visitors reported either ‘love it’ or ‘interests me’ for their response to contemporary art. The Walk exhibition was a blend of contemporary art and craft practitioners, and therefore was very well received by the demographic who attended.

POSTCARDS FROM THE AUDIENCE: THE TRAVELLING FEEDBACK BOX

Dear Georgia, Sherryn, Rowena,

The ‘Walk’ exhibition finished its two year tour today! It has been such a positive experience all along, thanks to your fantastic support. You ensured that it looked great in every location and the variety of public programs and publications made it accessible to a wide range of people. Ilka and I couldn’t have wished for a better outcome when we initiated the project. Thank you so much, Carmel Wallace.

“Amazing, inspiring for me as I am doing art at school and it helps me realise there is more to art than painting and drawing well. Natural material is used to great effect. Well done to the artists.” The exhibition Walk provided the first phase of substantial data for the 11 venue tour.

POSTCARDS FROM THE AUDIENCE:
THE TRAVELLING FEEDBACK BOX

COMMENTS
Visitor's qualitative feedback was overwhelmingly positive - people responded to the contemplative and atmospheric space that the exhibition provided and were very impressed with the overall quality of the exhibition. Many comments centred on how beautiful and inspiring the works were and were very pleased to see such an exhibition travel to regional areas.

A privilege to view a collection of such quality in your home town. Great stuff.

This is a lovely exhibition nice diversity of media. Thanks for bringing it to Bunbury.

FREQUENCY OF VISIT
37% of visitors were visiting the gallery for the first time, which is a very good indication that the exhibition was bringing in a new audience for the galleries. However the same percentage also reported repeat and frequent visits to the gallery indicating that they are a loyal audience base.

DEMOGRAPHIC
Unsurprisingly, a large percentage of visitors were female, but with 33 percent of visitors being male it presented a good gender cross section of the population.

A common finding with gallery visitation is often the disproportionate amount of visitors over 45. Less young people visited the exhibition than might have been expected. With only 29% of visitors being under 34 years of age, it indicates a need to develop targeted programs and marketing strategies to attract youth audiences.

Unsurprisingly, a large percentage of visitors were female, but with 33 percent of visitors being male it presented a good gender cross section of the population.

A common finding with gallery visitation is often the disproportionate amount of visitors over 45. Less young people visited the exhibition than might have been expected. With only 29% of visitors being under 34 years of age, it indicates a need to develop targeted programs and marketing strategies to attract youth audiences.

SUMMARY
On the whole, the evaluation program generated insightful feedback about the exhibition and venues. The exhibition inspired people to leave extensive feedback and was extremely well received by those who made comments. Future exhibitions will be developed in light of these findings, particularly in relation to providing seating any time based media art. The visitor feedback initiative is managed by NETS Victoria and data is also provided to each tour venue.

The C Word: Collaboration 2008 NETS Victoria Symposium for Curators
Date: 16 - 17 October 2008
Venue: The Ian Potter Centre: NGV Australia Federation Square, Melbourne

Current Trends In Exhibition Design
Presented by Museums Australia (Victoria) in partnership with NETS Victoria
Date: 30 June 2009
Venue: The Ian Potter Centre: NGV Australia Federation Square, Melbourne
Georgia Cribb presented with and Erik North from Lev Design. The presentation explored exhibition design for the NETS Victoria touring exhibitions Walk and How you make it.

In its second year, the NETS Victoria symposium for curators explored the diverse collaboration experiences found in the Australian visual arts industry from curatorial, artist and management perspectives. The symposium developed opportunities for critical debate and encouraged dialogue between all participants.

The C Word: Collaboration NETS symposium attracted members of the Australian arts workers, curators, academics and artists community. Gathering in Melbourne on Thursday 16 October and Friday 17 October 2008 attendees travelled from interstate, regional and metropolitan Victoria to participate in the two day event.

Held at the Ian Potter Centre: NGV Australia lecture theatre The C Word: Collaboration comprised of four panel discussions and three artist in conversation sessions featuring twenty-three guest speakers.

• 86 delegates attended the symposium from across the Australian arts sector included artists, curators, academics and art historians, writers.
• 40 attended the drinks function at Gertrude Contemporary Art Spaces.
• 28 Guest speakers came from across the country to speak including; Zara Stanhope (independent curator and former Deputy Director and Senior Curator, Heide Museum of Modern Art), Tamara Winikoff (Executive Director, National Association for the Visual Arts / NAVA), Juliana Engberg (Artistic Director, ACCA) and Vernon Ah Kee (artist)
• We held 4 panel discussions and 3 artist in conversation sessions
• Many of the participants were established in their field with over five year’s experience in the profession.
• The 2008 Symposium attracted a large number of students and young professionals who had less than five years experience in the profession with many of them seeing the event as an opportunity to develop new contacts in their field.
• While the majority of participants at the 2008 symposium were attracted from Melbourne metropolitan areas it was encouraging that a high numbers of regional participants travelled to participate in the event. Also encouraging was the participation of a number of interstate organisations who travelled from the Australian Capital Territory and Queensland.
COME ON THE SCENE

Thanks to NETS and COTS I’ve had the opportunity to travel to Swan Hill and Morwell and soon Horsham and run workshops and meet new people and generally expand my horizons! Thanks for all your help and support.

Cheers, Trevor Flinn xoxo

Come on the Scene is an exhibition which presented some dazzling new works by five young regionally-based contemporary artists from Victoria, Tasmania and Western Australia. Arising from Next Wave’s inaugural regional program, each artist represented in Come on the Scene developed an ambitious, large-scale new project, which was included in the 2008 Next Wave Festival. With the support of NETS Victoria, the artists redeveloped their work into a touring exhibition that took the works back into regional Australia, to the communities and towns from which they originated.

Featuring multimedia, sculpture, printmaking, performance, textile and installation works, Come on the Scene examined relationships, identity, communication, mythology and popular culture. These dynamic works provided a fresh perspective on regional Australia and the role of art in fostering a new sense of community and connectedness.

Practising as a regional artist in 21st century Australia poses a formidable challenge, especially to young artists who are often isolated from their peers and immersed in the complicated process of establishing their artistic practice and figuring out their place within their community and its specific culture and history. The Come on the scene artists tackled these challenges with intelligence, humour, and a critical eye. Their works reflected a great imaginative depth, in both manifesting ambitious ideas, and in the inspired processes they have developed to engage with their local communities and contexts. Importantly, these communities have responded in-kind to engage with each artist’s work in wildly varied, but always compelling and genuine, ways.

Next Wave and NETS Victoria are committed to nurturing creative practices and innovative artistic cultures in regional Australia, and we hoped that Come on the Scene provided an opportunity for artists and audiences alike to reflect on the enormous contributions that artists are making, and continue to make, in regional Australia.

MURRAY COD: THE BIGGEST FISH IN THE RIVER

Curators: John Kean, for Swan Hill Regional Art Gallery

Murray Cod: the biggest fish in the river is a rich showcase of visual art inspired by Australia’s most iconic fish. Consisting over 40 works of art by 27 artists, this timely and unique touring exhibition examines a great fish that symbolises the Murray River itself. Works by colonial artist Ludwig Becker, through to narratives about the fish by Ian Abdulla and a contemporary view of the river by Narelle Autoio, the exhibition explores the cultural and historical significance of the Murray cod through images drawn from memory, spiritual association and acute observation.

WALK
Curator: Martina Copley
Exhibition Development Fund recipient, 2006
Artists: Peter Corbett, Vicki Couzens, Nicky Hepburn, Brian Laurence, Jan Learmonth, Carmel Wallace, Ilka White and John Wolseley
At the heart of this exhibition is a 250 kilometre journey along the Great South West Walk, an increasingly endangered natural environment cradled in the far south-west corner of Victoria. For three weeks, this group of artists travelled together through forest and river, estuary and bay to create work in response to their experience of the Walk. The artists followed a path that took them far from the familiarity and isolation of the studio into a landscape conceived as a creative, social, cultural, ethical and aesthetic relation to place.

Six of Australia’s most respected contemporary artists evoke mesmerising woodland with intersecting storylines possessing both the charm and the implied menace of a Grimm’s fairytale. Hall of Mirrors: Anne Zahalka Portraits 1987-2007 explores the thread of portraiture through the prolific career of one of Australia’s pre-eminent photo media artists. Featuring many iconic images, this major survey examines portraiture, representation and identity throughout Zahalka’s celebrated career, which spans over 20 years. Her portraits reveal more than just the individual – with an ironic and critical voice the images cleverly subvert stereotypes while capturing subcultures and a spirit of the times with acute observation.

Dear NETS

This is a post-exhibitionary epistle. How You Make It returned to us in August having travelled to two states and four regional centres across Victoria. From Melbourne to its last stop in Mildura, How You Make It was received by enthusiastic audiences, making it one of Craft Victoria’s most successful fashion exhibitions. It goes without saying that we couldn’t have done it without the support and tireless efforts of the amazing NETS team. Looking forward to next time!

Best, Nella Themelios
Coordinating Curator, Craft Victoria

How you make it a Craft Victoria and NETS Victoria touring exhibition explored the processes behind some of Australia’s leading artisan fashion design practices. Specifically, this special touring exhibition looked at garment construction as an idea while revealing how traditional highly-crafted tailoring techniques continue to shape contemporary clothing in often radically new ways.

PUBLIC PROGRAMS
From Melbourne to its last stop in Mildura, How You Make It was received by enthusiastic audiences, making it one of Craft Victoria’s most successful fashion exhibitions.

Melbourne designer, Anthea van Kopplen created a series of workshops around her [envelope] project where audiences could learn how to hand stitch a unique garment and be a designer for a day.

The project was designed to engage audiences and consumers in a more holistic way of consuming fashion. The [envelope] is the name of the unique garment you are given to hand stitch and decorate during the workshops. The garment can be a coat, skirt, dress or a top and transforms into a shelter when five or more people come together.

[Envelope] is a fashion experience rather than a product. It is part of a system of sustainable design thinking that demands consumer engagement whether it be constructing, embellishing or creating a garment from beginning to end. This system nurtures individual expression and diversity, not the homogeny of commercial fashions. It created an experience with activities that encourage people to learn from each other and collaborate for a better more sustainable world.

The workshops were well attended throughout the How you make it tour and participants ranged in age from 8 to 80. Anthea discusses the environmental and social impacts of fashion design and making as you learn the pleasures of stitching and decorating your Envelope using recycled materials. Each participant in the workshop receives an [envelope] starter kit as part of the $35 fee. The template was available to download from our website www.netsvictoria.org.au
• We increased our audience by 32% with a total of 141,870 people visiting our exhibitions (405,914 up from 107,342 in 2007/2008).
• We helped host galleries to present 21 public programs to enable over 1000 people to engage with artists and curators from our 9 touring exhibitions.
• We presented exhibitions at thirteen major public galleries across six states including Object Gallery, Sydney; Flinders University Art Museum, Adelaide; Ipswich Art Gallery, QLD; and Fremantle Arts Centre, WA.
• We provided regional audiences with the opportunity to access treasures from such rich and diverse collections as the National Gallery of Victoria, Museum Victoria, the National Museum of Australia, the Art Gallery of South Australia, the Museum of South Australia, Flinders University Art Museum, Mildura Arts Centre, the Museum of Sydney, and the State Library of Victoria.
• We increased our online audience with 368,698 hits to our website.
• We collaborated with Heide Museum of Modern art and Asialink on the publication for The world in painting.
• We produced the NETS Victoria 2009 Destinations postcard book detailing each of the exhibitions on the road in 2009.
• We developed inclusive didactic material, which presents curatorial research in an accessible way to enhance each visitor’s experience.
NETS Victoria is dedicated to connecting people with the best contemporary art, craft and design. As a result, we don’t just deliver a ready-made exhibition to host galleries. We have a strong reputation for providing support and assistance at every step of the journey.

We are dedicated to working collaboratively with staff at host venues to install our touring exhibitions and to achieve the best presentation, given the intricacies and uniqueness of each gallery space. Although we develop comprehensive tour manuals with packing, handing and installation instructions, we also understand that it is more helpful for our Program Managers to join the installation team and share their knowledge of the works, each artist’s intention, each curator’s vision, and the specifics of the museum standard crates and packing.

COMMUNICATIONS

• Together with the Next Wave team, we mentored young designer, Dylan Fowler, based in regional Victoria and editor, emerging writer Fiona Maxwell, to produce publications and branding for Come on the Scene.

• We developed our first blog for Come on the Scene which was established to build an online community around the project and featured posts from the artists on site at the host galleries, insights into the unpacking and installation process and documentation of workshops held in conjunction with the exhibition.

• We designed and distributed our first publication in recent years apart from our annual report – 2009 Destinations postcard book which comprised a full list of the exhibitions on tour for the year and also announced our new partnership with International Art Services. It was extremely effective in promoting our organisation to the sector and communicating our core business to lenders and supporters.

• We have continued to build our profile with strategic advertisements in a range of art publications and have fostered our ongoing relationship with Art Monthly with the Artnotes Victoria column which we author.

• Our application to the Telematics Trust for funding for a new website was approved and we have begun the significant task of mapping out the structure and content of the site with web designers Small Studio. The site is expected to launch in September 2009.

• We developed a survey for the regional gallery directors which will seek feedback on our programs and services and gathers data which will be useful in our strategic planning in coming years. The survey will be collated and reported on in the next six months, with the findings used to inform our exhibitions in development in the coming years.

• We launched our new e-newsletter, NETSletter sent to all our stakeholders, and enhanced our social networking profile by joining Facebook and starting to Tweet.
FINANCIAL 2008-2009 ACHIEVEMENTS

Scope
We have audited the Operating Statement, Balance Sheet and Cash Flow Statement, being a Special Purpose Financial Report for the year ended 30th June 2009. The association’s committee is responsible for the preparation and presentation of the financial statements and the information contained therein, and have determined that the basis of accounting used and described in Note 1 to the financial statements is appropriate to meet the requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act and the needs of the members. We have conducted an independent audit of the financial statements in order to express an opinion to the members of the association on their preparation and presentation.

The financial statements have been prepared for distribution to the members for the purpose of fulfilling the requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act.

Our audit has been conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. These procedures have been undertaken to form an opinion as to whether, in all material respects, the financial statement are presented fairly in accordance with the accrual basis of accounting as defined in the AASB 101: Accounting Policies – Disclosure, applying accounting standards (if any) deemed necessary by the directors in the circumstances and provisions of Miscellaneous Professional Statements APS 1 “Conformity with Statements of Accounting Concepts and Accounting Standards” relevant to a special purpose financial report, as described in Note 1 to the financial statements.

The audit opinion expressed in this report has been formed on the above basis.

Audit Opinion
In our opinion the financial statements of the association are properly drawn up:

(a) So as to give a true and fair view, in accordance with the basis of accounting described in Note 1 to the financial statements, of the financial position of the Association as at 30th June 2009 and the results of its operations for the year then ended.

(b) In accordance with the provisions of the Associations Incorporation Act 1981; and

CHAIR’S REPORT
JULY – DECEMBER 2009

NETS Victoria continues to play a highly important strategic role in the delivery of contemporary art content to audiences across Victoria, and elsewhere. Acting at the forefront of professional practice, NETS leads the way in servicing and adding value to the interface between artists and audiences, within the gallery context.

Exhibitions, education resources, information needs and professional development continue to be delivered by the superb NETS team, led by Director Georgia Cribb. A vast array of exhibitions and projects were managed throughout the year, with new projects continuing to be sourced and shaped by the talented staff.

I thank all the Board members for their outstanding contribution, always visionary whilst being grounded, we together have navigated the tricky shoals of contemporary arts practice and its passage into the public arena.

Special thanks go to our strong and committed funding agencies, Arts Victoria and the Australia Council for the Arts.
They provide guidance in addition to funds, and I thank them on behalf of the organization for their valued contribution.

Finally I thank the artists, in the knowledge that the dynamic that exist between them NETS Victoria is the essential spark.

Joe Pascoe
Chair
Many of our most popular and acclaimed projects have come to an end during this period and we have begun working on a suit of new innovative and exciting projects in development for the coming year and beyond.

In these six months, we have presented nine exhibitions in sixteen locations across the country to audiences of more than 74,000 people. This huge output is delivered by a small, dynamic team of staff. Program Managers Sherryn Vardy and Emily Jones continue to juggle the demanding and complex tour itineraries and support artists and colleagues across the country in presenting outstanding contemporary art, craft and design.

Rowena Scanlon joined the organisation as Communications Manager in July, overseeing the launch of the new NETS Victoria website. This site, which had been in development for a number of years is a major achievement and provides a framework for our organisation to much more effectively provide access and engagement for audiences to the full spectrum of exhibitions in the NETS Victoria touring program through a wide variety of new formats of content including audio and video, blogs, advice and information for the arts industry and to make available our publications through an ecommerce facility. The site as it stands gives a small glimpse of its capabilities and we look forward to using it in new and exciting ways into the future.

We continued to work with our NETS Australia colleagues, holding a sector meeting in September in Townsville to coincide with the Public Galleries Summit. Both in our core business and through this network, we provide advice, support and advocacy on touring to the arts sector across the country.

My sincere thanks to our outgoing Chair Alex Taylor, who moved to the UK for postgraduate study in art history at Oxford University. Alex was incredibly supportive and was instrumental in a number of the organisation’s achievements in recent years. We welcome Joe Pascoe to the position, who brings an incredible range of experience across the sector. I greatly appreciate the support of the individual board members, past and present, which have helped us achieve the great outcomes detailed in this report.

Together, the Board of Management and team will begin strategic planning for our next triennium, beginning in 2011, which has been informed by a survey undertaken by our organisation of the exhibition programming needs and interests of the public gallery sector in Victoria. Stay tuned...

This six month report brings our state and federal funding reporting cycles into alignment – we hope you enjoy it.

Georgia Cribb
Director

• We toured nine exhibitions to sixteen galleries – two in metropolitan Melbourne, eight in regional Victoria and six interstate in New South Wales, the ACT, South Australia and Tasmania.

THE SPIRIT IN THE LAND
Curated by Robert Lindsay and Penny Teale, McClelland Gallery + Sculpture Park
The landscape genre has dominated Australian art and has been fundamental in the formation of our national identity. Within this tradition The Spirit in the Land will explore the special, often metaphysical, relationship to the land through the work of eleven leading indigenous and non indigenous artists, including Russell Drysdale, Lorraine Connelly-Northey, Sidney Nolan, Dorothy Napangardi, John Olsen, Rover Thomas, Fred Williams, Rosalie Gascoigne, Emily Kame Kngwarreye, John Davis and Lin Onus. Proposed to tour nationally in 2011-12 with NETS Victoria.

BILL HENSON: EARLY WORK FROM THE MGA COLLECTION
Curated by Stephen Zagala, Monash Gallery of Art
This exhibition reveals the power and beauty of the early and mid-career work of Australia’s best-known contemporary photographer, Bill Henson, and features twenty-nine exquisitely printed examples from many of Henson’s major series from the 1970s through to the early 1990s, all drawn from MGA’s collection. Proposed to tour nationally in 2011-12 with NETS Victoria.

THE CONSERVATION PROJECT (working title)
Curated by Sherryn Vardy, NETS Victoria
Conserving cultural materials is an important part of preserving history, memories and identity. The role of conservator is a relatively new profession in Australia and within the general public there is a lack of understanding of what a conservator does, who a conservator is and what can be done to preserve culture both in the lab, in the community or at home. The definition of tangible and intangible cultural material will be explored through a range of works of art, video demonstrations and didactics with a focus on preventive conservation explaining the forms of degradation. A combination of historical and contemporary works of art, including indigenous works, sourced from the Centre for Cultural Material Conservation will be accompanied with detailed documentation of their treatment paths. Proposed to tour Victoria in 2012 onwards with NETS Victoria.

HALL OF MIRRORS: ANNE ZAHALKA PORTRAITS 1987 – 2007
Curated by Karra Rees, Centre for Contemporary Photography
Hall of Mirrors examines portraiture, representation and identity throughout Zahalka’s career, which spans more than 20 years. Zahalka’s portraits reveal more than just the individual; with an ironic and critical voice the images cleverly subvert stereotypes, representing subcultures and a spirit of the times with acute observation. Tempering with truth in representation, blurring the boundary between reality and fiction, Zahalka uses a variety of photo-media techniques. Incorporating photomontage, double-exposure, darkroom trickery and digital manipulation, her practice has consistently enquired into the very nature of image making and its relationship to the world around us.

THE SHILO PROJECT
Curated by Dr Chris McAuliffe, The Ian Potter Museum of Art
The Shilo project is based on Neil Diamond’s 1970 album, the cover of which features a connect-the-dots portrait of Diamond for fans to complete. The project invites up to 100 contemporary Australian artists to complete a ‘blank’ cover and displays their sleeves alongside those found in op shops completed by unknown individuals. This kaleidoscopic exhibition of art and record sleeves is a tribute to pop idols, classic tunes, record collectors, fans and vinyl.

OTHER SIDE ART: TREVOR NICKOLLS, A SURVEY OF PAINTINGS AND DRAWINGS
1972 -2007
Curated by Michael O’Ferrall for the Ian Potter Museum of Art
Other side art brings together more than fifty paintings and drawings from around Australia. The exhibition recognises Nickolls’s pioneering role in the struggle by a generation of Aboriginal artists to forge a new position within the mainstream of Australian art and culture at a particularly vital juncture in the continent’s history. Large parts based on a chronological sequence of paintings with the addition of selected works on paper, groups of works are arranged to explore different facets of the artist’s interests:
the interplay between human psychology and the polemical and political, the cityscape and unmodified landscape, and the harmony/disharmony between the spiritual and the material.

LOOP: NEW AUSTRALIAN VIDEO ART
Curated by Daniel McOwan,
Hamilton Art Gallery
Loop: new Australian video art presents the work of five innovative Australian media artists - Daniel Crooks, Shaun Gladwell, Jess MacNeil, Arlo Mountford and Daniel von Sturmer. In bringing together this group of seemingly diverse artists, Loop is intended to provide a glimpse into some of the fresh methods being employed in video art today.
Testing the boundaries of this visual medium, the works in Loop present a spliced meditation on time, space, motion, place and perspective.

HOW YOU MAKE IT
Curated by Kate Rhodes, Craft Victoria How You Make It looks at a range of conceptual approaches to fashion design.
It focuses on practice-based research where cutting, marking, joining and sizing
– the cornerstones of garment production – are used to create a language from which design philosophies grow. Australian practitioners including Simon Cooper, Paula Dunlop, Ess.Laboratory (Hoshika Oshimi and Tatsuyoshi Kawabata), FORMALLYKNOWNAS (Toby Whittington), Anthea van Koppen, MATERIALBYPRODUCT (Susan Dimasi and Chantal
McDonald), Project (Kara Baker and Shelley Lasic) and SIX (Denise Sproxton) and Peter Boyd), open a dialogue between craft and design that sees formal processes become a platform for experimentation.

THE WORLD IN PAINTING
Curated by Zara Stanhope,
Heide Museum of Modern Art with Asialink
The world in painting offers a perspective into how Australian artists, from a range of generations and locations, are painting their worlds from domestic interiors to dream-like landscapes. It explores a number of themes including the workings of subjectivity and power, the strangeness and fantasy of the natural world, and the desire to encourage forms of creativity that are accessible to all. Artists include John Citizen, Amanda Davies, Dina
Georgetti, Raafat Ishak, James Morrison,
Boxer Milner Tjampitjin, Nancy Naninurra
Napanangka and Elizabeth Newman.

THE ENCHANTED FOREST:
NEW GOTHIC STORYTELLERS
Curated by Jazmina Cinimas
for Geelong Gallery
Six of Australia’s most respected contemporary artists evoke a mesmerising woodland with intersecting storylines possessing both the charm and the implied menace of a Grimm’s fairytale. The exhibition, which includes works by Jazmina Cinimas, Deborah Klein, Milan Milojevic,
James Morrison, Louise Weaver and Louiseann Zahra-King, revisits a time when animals and trees were thought to speak, when man was at the mercy of the forest, and the boundary between civilisation and the wilderness was less clearly defined.

COME ON THE SCENE
Curated by Jeff Khan and
Tamara Harwood, Next Wave
Come on the Scene presents new projects from five young regionally based Australian artists who have engaged with the communities around them through their creative practices. The resulting works provide a fresh perspective on regional Australia and the role of art in fostering a new sense of community and connectedness. The exhibition traverses new media, sculpture, painting, printmaking, installation and performance alongside documentation of the works by Ellen Coyle (Bendigo, VIC), Trevor Flinn
(Dunkeld, VIC), Carly Preston (Ararat, VIC),
Roderick Sprigg (Mukinbudin, WA) and Pip

OBJECTS TO LIVE BY...
THE ART OF JOHN MEADE
Curated by Zara Stanhope for NETS Victoria
This will be the first exhibition to review fifteen years of practice from one of Australia’s leading sculptors. Meade’s oeuvre is distinguished by its synthesis of figuration and abstraction. In dissolving the distinctions between sculpture, modern design and everyday objects, his art is a catalyst for the imagination. Touring nationally in 2010-11 with the support of Visions of Australia.

SIMRYN GILL: INLAND
Curated by Naomi Cass, Centre for Contemporary Photography
Simryn Gill: Inland presents the work of this internationally regarded artist in a new mid-career survey exhibition which will tour Victoria. Simryn Gill thinks deeply and methodically through the camera and found images, making large series that require ‘slow looking’ and reading. Photography enables Gill’s highly conceptual and intellectual approach, bringing a new dimension to what is traditionally understood as documentary photography. Proposed for tour across Victoria and interstate in 2010-12.

JUST DRAWN
Curated by Jan Duffy, Linden Centre for Contemporary Art
This exhibition features new works on paper from the group of urban Aboriginal artists known collectively as ‘Proppa NOW’. Including artists who have already gained individual acclaim, Richard Bell, Vernon Ah Kee, Gordon Hookey and Laurie Nilsen, as well as formidable emerging artists such as Jennifer Herd, Andrea Fisher, and Tony Albert, this group dispels the notion that indigenous art needs to be from a remote area to be ‘authentic’. These artists have developed a sophisticated city bred Aboriginal aesthetic in contrast to what they call the ‘Ooga-Booga’ mentality that seeks to cast indigenous culture as inherently static and primitive. Proposed for tour across Victoria and interstate in 2010-12.

MARY AND MAX: THE EXHIBITION
Curated by Fiona Trigg and Adam Elliot, Australian Centre for the Moving Image (ACMI)
ACMI in collaboration with Oscar®-winning director and writer Adam Elliot, presents Mary and Max: The Exhibition, a unique exhibition developed from the plasticine world of Mary and Max (2009), Elliot’s first animated feature film that tells the story of an unlikely pen-pal friendship between lonely eight-year-old Mary Daisy Dinkle and Max Jerry Horowitz, who has Asperger’s Syndrome and loves chocolate hot dogs. Touring Victoria in 2010-11 with the support of Arts Victoria’s Major touring initiative.

THE SPIRIT IN THE LAND
Curated by Robert Lindsay and Penny Teale, McClelland Gallery + Sculpture Park
The landscape genre has dominated Australian art and has been fundamental in the formation of our national identity. Within this tradition The Spirit in the Land will explore the special, often metaphysical, relationship to the land through the work of eleven leading indigenous and non indigenous artists, including Russell Drysdale, Lorraine Connelly-Northe, Sidney Nolan, Dorothy Napangardi, John Olsen, Rover Thomas, Fred Williams, Rosalie Gascoigne, Emily Kame Kngwarreye, John Davis and Lin Onus. Proposed to tour nationally in 2011-12.

DREAMWEAVERS
Curated by Simon Gregg, Gippsland Art Gallery
Dreamweavers explores art and the subconscious in a strange and enchanting journey through the world of dreams, nightmares and the imagination. The exhibition charts the contemporary propagation of Surrealism through a range of national and international art practices that are at once diverse, and united by an enduring fascination with darkness and dark places. Proposed to tour nationally in 2011-12.
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

MASTERCLASS: PAINTING & FRAMES
A NETS Victoria & National Gallery of Victoria Professional Development Seminar
Friday 30 October 2009

NETS Victoria is pleased to partner with the National Gallery of Victoria (NGV) to deliver a new series of professional development seminars for the public gallery sector in Victoria.

The first seminar, devised by NGV and NETS Victoria staff, focused on the areas of registration, conservation, condition reporting, art handling and installation of paintings and frames. The day included introductory presentations on theory and policy followed by practical hands-on demonstrations.

Presenters included senior members of the NGV team including Michael Burke, Manager Art Services; John Payne, Senior Conservator, Painting; Catherine Earley, Senior Conservator, Exhibitions; Holly McGowan-Jackson, Senior Conservator, Frames and MaryJo Lelyveld, Conservator, Frames.

Nineteen people who work in a broad range of roles including Director, Curator, Technician, Gallery Assistant, Installation Officer, Administration Officer and Art Space Attendant from public galleries across Victoria attended the day. Here are some comments:

• Extremely useful information and time with practiced experts.
• The seminar was extremely useful, I enjoyed the group activities, which was helpful to see how others hung works and the different tips people had for hanging, unpacking, handling, measuring formulas etc.
• It was a good opportunity to network with other gallery staff and to see the variety of gallery ‘hardware’ that is used at the NGV...
• Terrific and practical information. Felt presenters were very well prepared to present their information. Great combination of talking presentations and practical exercises – good handy hints offered.
• The day was planned extremely well and I would like to congratulate NETS for initiating this worthwhile program.
• The program was extremely accessible and inclusive.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF NATIONAL EXHIBITIONS TOURING SUPPORT (VICTORIA) INC.

Scope
We have audited the Balance Sheet, Operating Statement and Cash Flow Statement, being a Special Purpose Financial Report for the six months ended 31st December 2009. The association’s committee is responsible for the preparation and presentation of the financial statements and the information contained therein, and have determined that the basis of accounting used and described in Note 1 to the financial statements is appropriate to meet the requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act and the needs of the members. We have conducted an independent audit of the financial statements in order express an opinion to the members of the association on their preparation and presentation.

The financial statements have been prepared for distribution to the members for the purpose of fulfilling the requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act.

Our audit has been conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our procedures included examination, on a test basis, of evidence supporting the amounts and other disclosures in the financial report and the evaluations of accounting policies and significant accounting estimates. These procedures have been undertaken to form an opinion as to whether, in all material respects, the financial statements are presented fairly in accordance with the accrual basis of accounting as defined in the AASB 101: Accounting Policies – Disclosures, applying accounting standards (if any) deemed necessary by the directors in the circumstances and provisions of Miscellaneous Standards APS 1 “Conformity with Statements of Accounting Concepts and Accounting Standards” relevant to a special purpose financial report, as described in Note 1 to the financial statements.

The audit opinion expressed in this report has been formed on the above.

Audit Opinion
In our opinion the financial statements of the association are properly drawn up:

(a) So as to give a true and fair view, in accordance with the basis of accounting described in Note 1 to the financial statements, of the financial position of the Association as at 31st December 2009 and the results of its operations for the six months then ended.

(b) In accordance with the provisions of the Associations Incorporation Act 1981; and

(c) In accordance with applicable Accounting Standards. As the association has applied AASB 1023: Application of the Reporting Entity Concept and Other Amendments, other accounting standards and accounting concepts have been applied to the extent described in Note 1 to the financial statements.

Qualification
This report has been issued subject to resolution with the Australian Taxation Office that the amount of $60,455 refunded by that office should be returned. Provision has been made in the accounts on the basis that the amount will be returned.
